50 CENTS PER MONTH

LORIMER EXPELLED FROM U. S. SENATE BY VOTE OF 55 TO 28

HE FOUGHT FOR SEAT TO LAST MINUTE

Charged Enemies With Plot and Conspiracy and Declared His Innocence

SMILING, HE LEFT SCENE OF DEFEAT AFTER VOTE

Roll Call Showed That His State Colleague, Cullom, Cast His Vote Against Him

WASHINGTON, July 13.—William Lorimer of Illinois was expelled from the United States Senate this afternoon by a vote of 55 to 28, his colleagues finding him guilty of gaining his election on May 29, 1909, by "corrupt practices and methods."

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Although few were present when Senator Lorimer renewed his speech in his own defense in the senate, the galleries were soon packed. The heat was intense and the speaker was confronted by waiving fans and hats.

Lorimer appeared freshened by his rest. He flouted Kern, Lea and other anti-Lorimer leaders. He defied them to answer immediately to his arguments. Towards the end of his speech Lorimer had weakened visibly under the strain and heat. He concluded at 1:37 o'clock.

A call for a quorum was immediately issued amid suppressed excitement in the galleries.

At 1:40 o'clock the minority resolution was called up, holding it to be the sense of the senate that William Lorimer's election was corrupt. Roll call began at 1:55.

Just before the vote was taken, Senator Tillman, feeble and wan, obtained permission to have the clerk read a statement which he was personally too weak to make. The statement said:

"I realize now that I have little time before I must meet my Maker. I cast my vote secure in the conviction that Wm. Lorimer was elected without fraud."

Continuing, the statement paid a tribute to Lorimer's character and ability. Tillman's eyes were red with tears while the statement was being read.

Lorimer emphatically refused to see any reporters after his defeat. He walked to his office in the Senate office building, and established guards outside the doors.

LORIMER OUSTED BY A VOTE OF 55 TO 28 FROM HIS SEAT AS ILLINOIS SENATOR

The Events Leading Up To Lorimer's Expulsion

WASHINGTON, July 13.—William Lorimer, who was today unseated by the United States Senate from a place in that body by a vote of 55 to 28, was elected on May 29, 1909, by Democratic and Republican votes, to the United States Senate from Illinois.

On April 30, 1910, Representative C. A. White gave a confession, published in the Chicago Tribune, that he received $1000 from Lee O'Neill Browne for voting for Lorimer and $900 from Representative R. E. Wilson as his share of a general corruption fund.

On May 5, 1910, Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer confessed to receiving $1000 from Browne for his vote for Lorimer. The next day, a Cook county grand jury indicted Browne for bribery, and Wilson and Representative Link for perjury, Link confessing on the day following.

The same month State Senator Holtzlaw confessed before a Sangamon county jury that he received $2500 for voting for Lorimer.

Through various legal and senatorial investigations the matter went on until Dec. 12, 1910, when a United States Senate sub-committee exonerated Lorimer, reporting that the charges were not substantiated.

On Jan. 31, 1911, a minority of the U. S. Senate committee, led by Senator Beveridge (Rep. Ind.), reported gation because the plot in the legislature against him was discovered in time.

"You say I have a motive to perjure myself," Lorimer said. "While it is a great honor, I doubt if I appreciate it more than White of Chicago did the money. White swore he was a liar and a perjurer. I did not do that. It is an easy matter to destroy a man."

White was the Illinoisan whose statements weighed against Lorimer. Sending a page to the clerk room for Senator Crawford of South Dakota, Lorimer read an affidavit charging that Crawford paid money to alleged dummy entrants on a land claim, a charge he later disproved. Lorimer declared that this sort of evidence closely resembled that in his case.

Continuing, he described the features of what he called a plot against him; the charge that he was corrupt as a congressman and that he had a contract with Lee O'Neill Browne.

"There were schemes to put me in the penitentiary," he cried. "It was necessary to bolster up this case. My opponents hired William J. Burns, who called himself a 'great detective.' He put a venerable United States Senator in his grave on the testimony that the President of the United States now believes untrue. Charles White was bought by the Chicago Tribune. Glavis was given $750 to prove me corrupt."

EUGENE CHAFIN TO CARRY DRY BANNER

Won Prohibition Nomination For Presidency on First Ballot—Watkins is Mate

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 13.—After a three days' session, marked by tumultuous scenes and factional strife that threatened to split the party in twain, delegates to the National Prohibition convention nominated Eugene W. Chafin of Illinois as Arizona, for president, and Aaron S. Watkins of Ohio for vice president, early last night. Chafin and Watkins headed the party in the 1908 campaign.

Chafin won the nomination on the first ballot, with 594 votes out of a possible 867, and the nomination was then made unanimous, with the result that when Chafin went to the platform he was greeted with a wild demonstration that lasted ten minutes.

In accepting the nomination Chafin said:

"This is the greatest honor that could be offered any man politically this year. I thank you for this nomination, and I promise you that I shall not stand for a third term."

to the Senate its conclusions that Lorimer was not legally elected. Lorimer in a speech asserted, "No person was guilty of corrupt practices in my election."

On March 1, 1911, U. S. Senate, by a vote of 46 to 40, permitted Lorimer to retain his seat.

On April 6, 1911, C. S. Funk testified before the Helm investigating committee that Edward Hines asked the Harvester trust to contribute $10,000 toward making good a $100,000 fund that had been spent in electing Lorimer, and Senator La Follette moved to reopen the case. Various arrests and affidavits as to the "jack pot" was followed by action of the Illinois state senate, which in May, 1911, by a vote of 39 to 10, declared its belief that Lorimer was elected by bribery and corruption.

The U. S. Senate then voted a new probe of the Lorimer case by a special committee of the elections and privileges committee, which on March 28 exonerated Lorimer in a vote of 5 to 2. On May 20, 1912, the Senate received the majority report, signed by Dillingham, Jones, Fletcher, Johnston and Gamble, exonerating Lorimer, and a minority report, signed by Kern, Kenyon and Lee, recommending that his seat be declared vacant.

The action just taken is the result of a probe following the minority report and a reopening of the case.

HOUSES ROBBED IN DAYLIGHT HOURS

Two Residences Entered in the Southern Part of City Yesterday Afternoon

GOOD HAUL MADE AT CONGDON HOME

Work Done in Such Artistic Manner That it Was Not Discovered For Some Time

Daylight robbers operated in the southern part of the city yesterday afternoon with a considerable degree of success, and apparently made a clean getaway.

One of the houses entered was that of Walter N. Congdon, at 219 Cypress avenue. Entrance was effected by cutting the screen on the rear door, and lifting the latch. Mrs. Congdon was out during the afternoon, leaving the house untenanted. She came home about 4 o'clock and later went out again, noticing nothing wrong about the house in the interim. From later developments, however, she is inclined to the belief that she scared the intruder or intruders away on her return.

Nothing was taken from the Congdon home but a handsome bag, valued at about $18, and a number of articles of jewelry, such as rings and pins, bringing the total up to about $100. Nothing about the house was ransacked, and the robbery was not discovered until evening, when Mr. Congdon went to the jewel case to get a ring and found it empty. Investigation then disclosed that a robbery had occurred. Following the traces of the robbers by articles valuable to them which they had dropped, the trail was followed to the corner of Orange and Chestnut avenue, and there lost.

No money was secured at the Congdon home, and none of the drawers had been entered. For this reason it is believed that the visitors were frightened away before they had finished their work.

Small Booty Secured During the afternoon the residence of Elmer Jones, at 416 East Walnut street, was also entered while all the family was away. Here entrance was secured by opening the rear door with a skeleton key. The thieves secured a revolver, an old watch and some old coins, the total value not being over $20.

The police are working on the case, but have small information on which to go. During the afternoon two suspicious looking men were seen in the neighborhood where the crimes occurred, but no adequate description of them has been secured so far. None of the neighbors saw anybody about either of the houses entered during the afternoon.

CONCRETE DITCH TO BE 6 MILES LONG

Along the diverted stream power houses will be built to provide power and light for Southern California towns.

It is expected the irrigation part of the work will be finished by fall and the power houses put in next year. The Consolidated company is capitalized at $1,000,000. H. Edwin Moore of Los Angeles is its president and W. B. Scraborough, a banker of Monrovia, secretary.

HAY PRICES ARE PREDICTED TO BE HIGHEST IN YEARS

POMONA, July 13.—Growers of hay in this valley predict that prices this season will be higher than for many years. That an advance is certain is proved by the fact that large buyers are laying in big stocks or hay much earlier in the year than usual.

Two large sales, one to the American Beet Sugar Company and one to the Pomona Valley Ice Company, were made this week at $16 a ton.

LLOYD-GEORGE ENTHUSES OVER ACT

England's Chancellor of Exchequer Says 'Workman's Insurance Measure is Best

IS ONE STEP IN GREAT POLICY OF LIBERALS

Is in Line With Old Age Pension Act and Curbing of Veto Power of Lords

LONDON, July 13.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George today gave the United Press his first interview concerning the workmen's insurance act which becomes effective Monday throughout the British Isles.

(Copyright 1912 by the United Press. By the Right Honorable David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer) The workmen's insurance act is one more step in the great liberal forward movement which began with the old age pension act, continued by the budget in 1910, providing for the taxation of land, and since continued by the deprivation of the House of Lords of the right to veto legislation thrice passed by the House of Commons.

For the first time in the history of England as a state, the employer and worker may now co-operate to maintain and increase the efficiency of the nation and the individual. The workman's insurance act aims to keep the household from poverty and the dark days of sickness which comes to every household in turn, and to guard against suffering from non-employment for which the workman is not responsible. It will keep the mother at childbirth, and inaugurate a great national campaign against consumption.

Instead of devoting our strength to fighting our neighbors, we are organizing to fight social evils at home. I am convinced the people will hail this as the most beneficent measure ever offered. Now that the workman's insurance act is active on Monday, we will put our hands to the great work of freeing the land, which was meant for the many but which has drifted into the hands of the few.

U. S. HAS WARRANT FOR GEN. OROZCO

Charge is Murder of American at Parral; Gomez Called For; U. S. Renews Border Patrol

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 13.—A federal warrant for the arrest of General Pascual Orozco, leader of the Mexican revolutionists, on a charge of murdering Leroy Fountain at Parral, Chihuahua, is known to have been issued and is now in the possession of United States civil officers, who are watching Orozco, expecting to trap him on American territory.

Fountain, who was a son of Judge Fountain of New Mexico, was a captain in command of a machine-gun detachment in Madero's army during the siege of Parral by the rebels. He was tried by court-martial, convicted and sentenced to be executed. On the appeal of Americans in Parral sentence was suspended and Fountain given the liberty of the city under rebel escort pending "investigation." The following day he was shot to death in the street by his "escort." The rebel excuse for the murder was that Fountain was trying to escape.

CHARTER BOARD MEETS WITH BISHOP

Assemblyman Discusses Powers of the Freeholders Board—Answers Questions

The Board of Freeholders last night had a talk from Assemblyman Clyde Bishop in regard to charters, and secured valuable information. Bishop answered questions put to him, and cleared the way to a better comprehension of what is expected of the board, what its duties are and how to proceed in the preparation of the charter.

Attorney Bishop appeared before the board at its request. Other attorneys of the city will probably be asked to discuss matters in connection with the work of the charter-framers. Bishop was a member of the committee on municipal corporations at the last legislature, and to that committee were referred all the charters submitted to the legislature. Bishop has copies of the charters of Long Beach, Santa Monica, Palmdale and several other cities, and these were turned over by him to the Board of Freeholders.

The question as to how the expenses of the board are to be met has not yet been settled. Bishop suggested that one way out of the difficulty would be the insertion of a clause in the charter to the effect that the expenses be paid by the new city government. If the charter carried, the expenses would be provided for. Otherwise they would not.

In response to a question of Dr. J. M. Burlew, a member of the board, Bishop stated that the charter could provide for the regulation of health matters.

The charter board has set Tuesday evenings as the time for its regular weekly meetings.

Smart is highly pleased with the Thursday sale. Other brands put out by the association are Rooster, Planet and Searchlight. The Septer is the highest grade packed in the house.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION PREVENTION TUBERCULOSIS ISSUES STATEMENT

The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis issues the following information as to hospital provision for those too poor to provide such care for themselves:

"Nearly 4000 additional hospital beds for consumptives in 29 states were provided during the year ending June 1, according to a statement issued today from the records of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. This makes a total of over 30,000 beds, but only about one for every ten indigent tuberculosis patients in this country.

"In the last five years, the hospital provision for consumptives has increased from 14,428 in 1907 to over 30,000 in 1912, or over 100 per cent. New York state leads in the number of beds, having 8350 on June 1; Massachusetts comes next with 2800, and Pennsylvania a close third with 2700. Alabama showed the greatest percentage of increase in the last year by adding 57 new beds to its 42 a year ago. Georgia comes next with 109 beds added to 240 a year ago. New York has the greatest numerical increase, having provided over 1800 additional beds in the year.

"Only four states, Mississippi, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming, have no beds whatever in special hospitals or wards for consumptives. Eight years ago, when the National Association was organized, there were 36 states in which no hospital or sanatorium provisions for consumptives existed, and the entire number of beds in the United States was only 10,000.

"While these figures would indicate a remarkable growth in anti-tuberculosis activity," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association, in commenting on this subject, "there are still practically ten indigent consumptives for every one of the 30,000 beds, including those for pay patients. In other words, we have from 250,000 to 300,000 consumptives in this country too poor to provide hospital care for themselves. If tuberculosis is ever going to be stamped out in the United States, more hospital provision for these foci of infection must be provided."

EVANS MAKES RACE AS A "PROGRESSIVE"

RIVERSIDE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS HOPES TO VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT—FRANK STATEMENT OF HIS POSITION IN THIS CAMPAIGN—HE WILL CONTEST IN REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES—WHAT HE HOPES TO DO FOR THE DISTRICT

Editor Press: I have been frequently asked where I stand in the light of the political developments of the last few weeks.

In answering this question I desire to make my position absolutely plain and clear, so that those who have been my supporters heretofore may in justice to themselves be relieved of embarrassment and feel free to make such political affiliation for the coming campaign as their conscience dictates. It is impossible for me to see every voter, and I therefore trust that this statement may be of benefit to those whom I do not personally meet.

Within the Republican ranks, during the last presidential nomination, some of us have differed, and now there may be to some extent a new alignment of forces. I will not assume to add to the Chicago debate. Each of us must seriously consider and debate for himself. If the progressive leaders decide to support a third nominee on progressive Republican lines, I shall vote for such nominee, and hope I shall be given the privilege. Otherwise I shall support the present Republican ticket. While favoring protection for industries needing help, especially where such protection is distributed to the actual producer, both owner and laborer, as in the case of our citrus and sugar industries in this district, I am at the same time a believer in the sane readjustment of present tariff schedules wherever it can be shown that great wealth is amassed in a few hands, not actual producers, and where there is a vested monopoly and trust for a few rather than protection for numerous producers and consumers.

I am in favor of doing some definite things for the definite benefit of all our people, without any further unnecessary delay. By this I mean the adoption of those principles and laws advocated by the progressive leaders, such as the parcels post, the good roads movement, the direct nomination of senators and presidential electors, the simplification of our laws, universal suffrage for our women, the readjustment of the tariff where shown to foster monopolies and trusts, the more equal distribution of taxation and assessments, the revision of our present financial system, the practical conservation of our natural resources, especially at the present time of timber and coal and water; the government supervision of all public utilities, the proper management of the Panama canal in the interest of all our people, and the improvement of our harbors and inland waterways in connection therewith; besides giving serious and active attention to other matters of social importance and outside the realm of finance and business, but intimately connected with the public good.

I have lived in Riverside since 1876, have been actively engaged in business since 1889, especially in the development of land and water, the planting, growing, and marketing of citrus fruits, and largely for years past in diversified farming, and I pledge to each section a fair proportion of my time and effort. I understand the peculiar problems of Inyo and Mono counties, am in sympathy with their desires and believe I can accomplish results for them. I have been through the practical work, though on a smaller scale, that Imperial county is doing, believe in its future, realize the government problems connected therewith and could the better present their needs because I thoroughly believe in their work and know from experience what can be done. San Bernardino, Orange and Riverside counties' industries have much in common and with this work I have grown up. San Diego has much to consider with us in the citrus industry and in the development of its harbor, which I have known since the early days, and for the adequate improvement of which I should expect to work, not only because it is in this district, but because.

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburns. I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Theodore's Black-Dragee, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress. I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned. I speak a good word for Theodore's Black-Dragee whenever I have the opportunity. If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Theodore's Black-Dragee. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver. It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

cause I have known something of its hopes for many years, because it will diversify shipping facilities, because it has the possibilities and a just claim to adequate help. These words are not now said for the first time, but I have so stated for several years, and whether I am congressman or not, San Diego is entitled to this improvement, and I will do all that I can to further it. It is unfortunate that any one should suggest an alliance with any other harbor project against San Diego—we are big enough in these days to want all sections to succeed, but the representative of this district should be favorable to work actively and hard for a fair distribution of national aid for his own district on its merits—if he works against other projects and in antagonism his arguments will not avail—he must work in harmony with others and especially with those of his own state. Federal aid to harbor improvement creates an interest and an ownership to the interior country as well as to the seaport itself, and certainly we in the interior have as much right to the use of these harbors as have the people on the coast, and they in turn have as much need of us and our markets—it is a mutual affair for the whole district, rather than local.

From a transportation standpoint I am in favor also of a thorough presentation of the Orange county harbor of Newport, and of its improvement at such time as a proper showing can be made of its necessity, and I feel that the Orange county people have and are obtaining information on this subject which they will present in a reasonable manner, without prejudice to any other project.

San Diego harbor has been familiar to me for 35 years, and I undertake to say that in this matter is gone at in the right way that proper aid can be obtained—when I say that I will devote my very best efforts to these projects I but state again what I have many times said for several years past, that I believe in them, consider that we need them, and that our interior valleys are as vitally interested as are the immediate harbor people themselves. A port must have the friendship of a purchasing back country and adequate rail transportation for prompt and frequent distribution. As one vitally interested in the up-building of all Southern California in particular, I have preached this doctrine for years, and as president of our chamber of commerce I have had some part in creating a renewed interest in such matters.

Subdivisions and statements of belief can be lengthened indefinitely, and I will only add here (and amplify as the campaign proceeds) that I am willing to adjust myself to such laws and conditions as will bring to all our people a fair measure of prosperity and happiness, with an equal chance to enjoy those proper activities of government which practically all thinking people know in their hearts are desirable, just and obtainable. Let each allow the other his honest opinion, and let each go before the people and give his reasons. Politically I shall continue on the road I have been traveling, and I have faith in the triumph of the progressive cause. I personally may, or may not, win—this is not a strife for personal preference—it is a serious test of whether we really believe what we preach and are willing to put our words into practice.

My course is clear. Since 1901, when I became definitely committed to certain progressive principles of government, I have continued to advocate them unequivocally. In 1906-07 I publicly advocated these principles, as chairman of our charter board of freeholders. As president of the California League of Municipalities in 1910 in the city of San Diego I again publicly presented these ideas. During the last campaign for governor in this state I stood upon the progressive platform. Years of careful study of national, state and municipal problems have confirmed my belief in the progressive doctrines. In my opinion, after careful consideration, the national forces and influences behind Mr. Taft's nomination are opposed to the consummation of what I should like to see realized in our land.

I shall appreciate and will need your help—it is your battle—I say, go through to the end. I believe I will have good company and plenty of it. Thanking all of those who have so far helped, and conceding to each his honest convictions as to the future, I remain,

Yours for a continuation of the progressive policy,

SAMUEL C. EVANS,
Candidate for Congress, Eleventh District.

BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL NEAR HEMET IS CONSUMMATED

HEMET, July 12.—One of the largest real estate transfers ever consummated in this immediate vicinity has just been concluded. The Rosa ranch, two and a half miles southwest of Hemet, has been taken over by the W. I. Hollingsworth Company of Los Angeles for a consideration of $34,000. It comprises 400 acres which will be subdivided into five and ten-acre tracts and put on the market in that form. Water developments have already been commenced and the proximity of the tract to developed water is good evidence that the development on this property will result successfully.

MAYOR ALEXANDER PROVES REAL HERO

With Wonderful Agility He Saved Los Angeles Woman From Plunging Horses' Hoofs

Los Angeles Examiner: Mayor Alexander leaped from his automobile last evening at Fourth and Broadway and in less than two seconds had made himself a hero, rescuing a swooning woman from under the hoofs of a span of huge truck horses. It was all done so quickly that but few had time to see it. The mayor placed his fair burden in his automobile and personally conducted her home.

The Mayor's chauffeur, Patrolman O. L. Gilpin, slowed down at Fourth and Broadway, then, the right of way being given him, started again suddenly.

"Stop!" shouted the mayor, the next instant he was out on the street, and Gilpin saw him under the feet of the plunging horses, tugging away at the form of an unconscious woman. Gilpin helped place the woman in the automobile. She gave the name of Miss Ada Johnson, 144 South Soto, and seemed to be much surprised at finding herself in an automobile with men she had never seen before.

From witnesses it was learned that Miss Johnson, becoming panic-stricken when she found herself caught in the crush of traffic, swooned directly in front of the horses.

MR. EVANS' CANDIDACY

Elsewhere in today's paper appears a statement made by S. C. Evans of Riverside, candidate for the Republican congressional nomination in this district. The statement originally appeared as a communication to the Riverside Press, of July 9, and is reproduced in this paper as a matter of courtesy to Mr. Evans and for the information of the Register's readers.

The statement is of such a character as to commend Mr. Evans, both as a man and a candidate, to the favorable consideration of voters.

Summarizing the statement and commenting upon it, editorially, under the heading, "Evans' Position Logical," the Riverside Press has this to say:

"In the Press tonight S. C. Evans makes a frank and manly statement of his position in the present campaign. He entered this contest as a progressive Republican and he proposes to continue his campaign on those lines. From him came the first suggestion of the organization of a Roosevelt club in Riverside, and he is one of the officers of that organization that has taken an active interest in its work in promoting the interests of the progressive candidate for president. Mr. Evans shares with the great mass of the Republicans of California deep regret and strong resentment that Roosevelt was not nominated in Chicago; and he sympathizes with the view of Governor Johnson that Roosevelt today is morally, though not technically the nominee of the Republican party.

"Holding these views Mr. Evans considers himself a Republican, entitled to contest for the nomination for congress at the September primaries and to represent the party at the November election, if he wins at the primaries. Because Mr. Taft was nominated at Chicago by the votes of anywhere from 40 to 90 delegates who were improperly seated, he does not consider that he must pledge himself to support him, in order to qualify as a Republican. Within the next month Theodore Roosevelt will in all probability be named as the nominee of the progressive wing of the Republican party; and Mr. Evans feels that in that event his place will be in the ranks of the Roosevelt supporters.

"No doubt there will be a howl from certain reactionary papers in the district against Evans contesting in a Republican primary; but those papers are respectfully reminded of the fact that the Republicans of this district, in every county and by an overwhelming vote, endorsed Roosevelt rather than Taft. There is no indication that they have changed their views on the issues between the two men; and Mr. Evans is therefore not only taking a position that is logical and consistent with his own record, but one that is in harmony with the sentiment of the Republicans of the district. His opponent, Mr. Kirby, was a rampant 'insurgent' two years ago; now he seems quite willing to run under the auspices of the 'regulars.' In view of his weather vane course, it is difficult to see what particular joy the Taft papers will get out of supporting him.

"As a protectionist and loyal champion of the interests of the district, Mr. Evans takes second place to no one; and as a progressive he shows himself in harmony with the advanced sentiment of the day on political matters. His face is towards the future and that fact ought to commend him to the voters of the district."

KANSAS' GOOD EXAMPLE

The Kansas State Board of Health and the College of Medicine of the University of Kansas held a summer school at the university, from June 10 to 15, for physicians and health officers. The program for the first day included demonstrations in the technique of water examination, lectures on water-borne diseases, sources of water supply and water purification. The second day's program contained a two-hour period on laboratory diagnosis of epidemic meningitis followed by lectures and demonstrations. The third day was devoted to a study of disinfection, ventilation and drug adulterations, and the fourth to laboratory technique on food adulteration and anti-toxins, serums and vaccines. Saturday was given up entirely to clinics. The time allowed for this work permitted only the most general instruction, but even this is of value.

Kansas has set a splendid example to her sister states in close co-operation between the state health authorities and the state university. The day has passed for standing aloof or for arguments over jurisdiction and authority. The Journal of the American Medical Association says that the spirit of the times is that of co-operation and mutual helpfulness. All the state agencies should work for the common good, and there is no work of greater importance than that for public health. If our state boards of health, medical societies, state universities and educational institutions everywhere could be induced to co-operate in the education of the public in sanitary matters, the results would redound to the credit of all concerned and would be especially marked in improved health conditions.

CATECHISING CANDIDATES

There is a municipal league in Canton, Ohio, which believes in subjecting candidates for public office to a written examination as a basis for awarding its support. Some weeks before the May primaries the league sent around to each candidate in Stark county a list of questions on some of the most important local issues. A few of these were a bit difficult, as for instance: "Distinguish between Republican and Democratic rule or power as applied to the affairs of a county or city." The succeeding ones were simpler and might have been answered by any schoolboy. "State briefly the Short Ballot principle as proposed to the Constitutional Convention" and "State briefly the commission plan of government as now adopted by 183 cities of the United States, ranging in population from 150,000 down."

Our Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Some of the experts of the bureau of education have been putting in the hot days this summer examining the signatures of old documents of Colonial days to see how many of our forefathers could write their own names. They found an astounding amount of illiteracy among our best people—that is, astounding to us in these days of compulsory education, but not so astounding considering the difficulties of getting an education 200 years ago.

After counting nearly 100,000 signatures and marks, the experts found that the people of Massachusetts were best educated, and those of Virginia least. The New York Dutch and the Pennsylvania Germans were above the average in education.

In Massachusetts 11 per cent of the men who attested legal papers made their marks instead of signing in the middle of the seventeenth century 58 per cent of Massachusetts women could not write their own names. By the end of the century this percentage had fallen to 38.

In Virginia of over 2000 men who signed jury lists in the seventeenth century 46 per cent made their marks, and of over 12,000 who signed legal papers 40 per cent made their marks.

An examination of legal papers filed by Pennsylvania Germans showed that 26 per cent of the men were illiterate. Among the Dutch of New York illiteracy declined from 40 per cent in 1675 to six per cent in 1738.

In all the colonies women possessed the scantiest educations. In Virginia 76 per cent of the women were illiterate; in New York, 60 per cent; in Massachusetts 58 per cent.

Drownings Lead to Swimming Tests Numerous drownings of naval officers during the last few years, has led the Navy Department to adopt a new plan for increasing the swimming ability of its men. A new form for reports on ship inspection has just been issued, with space for a report on the percentage of officers and crew who are able to swim five minutes without exhaustion, and how many are able to swim completely around the ship without evidence of fatigue.

Swimming has long been included in the curriculum at the Annapolis Naval Academy, and great pains are taken to make the young officers at

MAJOR FRIES NOT FREE TO TAKE WORK FOR LOS ANGELES

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Major Amos A. Fries of the corps of engineers of the United States army will not be the engineer to carry forward the work of completing the Los Angeles harbor. This was settled yesterday by General W. H. Bixby, chief of army engineers, who refused to sanction a leave of absence from the army for Major Fries. It was on condition only that he be given a leave of absence from his post in the army that Major Fries would consider taking charge of the harbor work at Los Angeles. He refused to consider resigning his commission in the army to take up the work.

"The army is short of officers," said General Bixby yesterday, "and it is impossible to release Major Fries from his present duties. There is precedent for such action, but we are short of officers now, and his release at this time would probably lead to other similar requests that would embarrass the department. It cannot be done."

LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY SEEK TO CONSOLIDATE

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—Advocates of the consolidation of the city and county governments yesterday had the satisfaction of seeing filed with County Clerk Harry J. Leland, a petition to procure a constitutional amendment to this end. It contains 11,112 signatures, headed by that of Henry H. Lyon.

OBITUARY

Sarah Estella Bloodgood was born near Whitewater, Wisconsin, January 9th, 1860. She was the eldest of five children born to Abram S. Bloodgood and Mary Sterling Bloodgood. When Estella Bloodgood was three years of age her people moved west to Linn county, Iowa, where they resided on a farm near Cedar Rapids. At the age of sixteen Miss Bloodgood began teaching school, at which she was very successful. She followed this occupation for several years. During her career as teacher she taught in Iowa, South Dakota, Utah and Alabama. Later she became identified with the deaconess work in Chicago, where she remained for several years.

Following this she occupied a chair in Talledega College, Alabama, where she remained for a period of eight years. Finally, her health not being the best, she became the guardian angel of the old home with her aged father and mother. For twelve years she has given her honest and her best devoted love and sacrifice to the care and attention of father and mother Bloodgood, who preceded her to the Better Land but a short time ago.

Her last illness was of about twelve months' duration, and through all the mental and physical agony of her last sickness she was cheerful, loving and brave.

By her long life of usefulness as a teacher she has influenced hundreds of boys and girls to become good men and women. Through her devoted efforts in the deaconess work she has set the standard for many a self-sacrificing, noble effort for those who would do good.

As a loving daughter and patient vigil in the home, with her father and mother, she not only successfully managed the financial feature, but added comfort, ease, culture, friends and all those beautiful elements that go to make up home, sweet home.

She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, in which she had done noble service. Her departure is another marked example of the love and self-sacrifice, for she literally gave her strength and her mind and her soul to the comfort and enjoyment of others near and dear to her. It may as truthfully be said of her as of any soldier, that "greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for another."

She leaves two brothers and a sister, Carlette Newcomer and Santa Ana; Freeman H. Bloodgood of Ingwood, and Fred C. Bloodgood of Huron, South Dakota. There were also five half-brothers and sisters, Lucina L. Lewis of Forest Grove, Oregon; Lewis E. Bloodgood of Huron, South Dakota; Loren E. Bloodgood of Beatrice, Nebraska; the late Lavancia E. Langley of Santa Ana, and Lydia E. Brooks, deceased.

The last sad rites were held Friday afternoon at Santa Ana, Cal. Rev. Cory of Orange, Cal., a former pastor of Miss Bloodgood, gave a very beautiful and fitting sermon at the Winblier chapel. Appropriate music was sweetly rendered by Mrs. Lillie Harrison. The floral offerings were very beautiful. The casket was borne by near relatives: William H. Newcomer and sons, Roger and John, Clifford C. Langley, Freeman H. Bloodgood, and Leon Ellison Bloodgood. Interment was made at the Santa Ana cemetery in the family lot, where now rest her father and mother and one sister.

Family Reunion in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Benton Blee at home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Blee

The charming bride won by Benton Blee during his Occidental days, was introduced to the large Blee connection last night at a delightful family reunion held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Blee of 311 Orange avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Benton Blee were married in Los Angeles on last Monday by the bride's father, Dr. W. D. Ward, of Occidental College, and came to Santa Ana on Wednesday. They will be at home to their friends after July 25, at 742 Cypress avenue.

The R. J. Blee home was decorated prettily last night with Shasta daisies, and the evening was spent pleasantly in an informal way, the hostess serving dainty refreshments at the close of the happy occasion.

Those present besides the host and hostess and the honorees were Messrs. and Mesdames J. W. Blee, Harry B. Blee, W. C. Blee, Joe Baker, W. B. Yingling, J. C. Clark, E. P. Stafford, J. W. Daughters Plan Picnic

There was a full attendance of the daughters of Veterans last night at the regular meeting of that patriotic order. It was with much regret that the resignation of Mrs. A. S. Holbrook as president was accepted. Mrs. Holbrook's long and serious illness, from which she is now slowly recovering, prevents her holding the office any longer. Mrs. W. H. Thomas was elected to succeed Mrs. Holbrook.

During the business meeting it was decided that the local tent would hold a picnic at Balboa on July 19, with the G.A.R. veterans as their guests. The party will leave here on the morning of Friday, July 19, on the 9:05 Newport Beach car.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Shower of Linen For Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lindsay by Party or Surprising Friends

An anniversary that was happily observed last night was the linen wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lindsay, 801 East Third street. And the affair was all planned and carried out without the knowledge of the principals, it being a surprise party in which the hosts took all the trouble (if any trouble could be connected with so jolly an affair) and arranged everything from diversions to "eats." So the affair was purely enjoyable to the Lindsays.

There were about thirty people present and the evening was a real round of pleasure. Many gifts of linen including dillies, dresser scarfs, towels and similar articles were received by Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay as tokens of esteem from their friends.

The self-invited guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Roy Beall, R. W. Spear, C. Cleland, Guthrie Boyde, David McBurney, R. K. Torrens, R. T. Cathcart, Clarence White; Misses Myrtle Cathcart, Nellie Cathcart, Margaret Farris; Mrs. Shusta; Messrs. Woodrow Stewart and G. N. Greer.

Cream of Watercress Soup. Wash, pick over and chop fine one bunch of watercress, add to three cups of veal stock, bring to a boiling point and let simmer ten minutes; then strain through double thickness of cheesecloth. Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and add to the stock. Cook until mixture thickens, add a cupful of cream or rich milk, season with salt and pepper. Put in a few drops of green vegetable color, reheat and serve with squares of bread nicely browned.

Beef Roll. Take a large round steak about an inch thick, spread flat on a board or table, then make a dressing of bread crumbs as much as you want and season with salt, pepper, sage and one egg, then spread on round of steak and roll up and tie a cord around it or use skewers to keep it together; then bake till nice and done.

THE RED ORANGES OF OROSI

Attracting Much Attention Among Growers

Think of Oranges almost as red as June apples. That's the sort that grow at Orosi, in the upper part of Tulare county. These Red Oranges are not to be compared with the ordinary "golden" variety—they are larger, richer, juicier, more luscious.
The difference is in the soil, the water, the climate—but particularly in the soil. The answer is, "iron." The great quantity of iron in Orosi soil gives oranges that rich red color that is making Tulare County famous.
Growers from all over the state are talking about Tulare County, especially about the Orosi district. New settlers are coming in from all parts of the country; and men already in the district, who have heretofore been content with small acreage, are reaching out for more land.
A man doesn't have to put all his eggs in one basket at Orosi. Other things grow here besides oranges. From a 7-acre peach orchard, Fred Conkey, last year, realized $2100; while George Bartlett took off $5100 from 18½ acres.
Many prominent fruit growers in the Orosi district, who came here poor a few years ago, have grown independent from the products of the soil. And these same men will become rich in the next few years, as land values increase.
A recent purchaser stated the other day that he wouldn't sell his 20-acre tract for less than double what he paid for it. Write Orosi Orange Land Co., owners; M. S. Robertson, Mgr., 301 Story Bldg., Los Angeles, for illustrated folder; or see E. M. Sheridan, office at Dinuba, California, who has auto ready to show the wonderful development and possibilities of the Orosi section to those interested.

Hill's Corner

This corner has been considerably "stirred up" because of the manner in which the street over against our Fifth street ware-rooms has been cut up and dug up.

We can get along very well so far as the present obstruction affects us, but when those workmen had dug the ditch and had put in their wood pipes through which they propose to pass the telephone wires and had covered up the pipes with a part of the dirt taken from the ditch and had hauled the rest of the dirt away, that's where we got "riled up."

Every one who has dug a ditch knows that the dirt taken out is not sufficient to fill the same ditch when it shall have settled and even the dirt that was put back in those ditches was not packed as it should have been, otherwise there would not have been any dirt to haul away and such being the case, when the paving shall have been put over those ditches it will continue to sink until the earth below becomes packed.

Just what our city authorities will do about it this corner of creation don't know. By

LOS ANGELES P. O. TO BE KNOWN NOW AS NUMBER 81,100

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—By virtue of an official order received by Postmaster W. H. Harrison, hereafter the Los Angeles postoffice will be known by number only, and that number will be 81,100. In all future reports made by this office to the auditing department of the Postoffice Department at Washington, the number will alone be employed. The rule is a universal one and the offices in Los Angeles county will be similarly known. A reduction of sixty-five in the force of postoffice clerks is accomplished at Washington by the change from names to figures.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

HEMSTREET IN COUNTY JAIL

It Took Months to Get Him
There, But He is There For Next 150 Days

Last night C. S. Hemstreet was locked up in the county jail to serve 150 days for selling liquor to a minor, the son of A. W. Everett of Huntington Beach. The offense was committed months ago. Hemstreet was tried in the justice's court, and took an appeal to the superior court. Judge West sentenced him to 150 days in jail and to a fine of $300. Then came a long period for an appeal to the appellate court, where Judge West was upheld.

The papers from the upper court recently arrived, but Hemstreet was not on hand to begin serving his sentence. In fact, he seems to have thought the thing had all blown over. Yesterday afternoon the matter was presented to Judge West, and a bench warrant was issued. Under Sheriff Squires arrested Hemstreet last night at Newport Beach, where the offense was committed.

Sentenced to Jail
Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Kate Measor was sentenced by Judge West to pay a fine of $25 and to go to jail for six months on one offense and to a fine of $100 and to jail for seven months on a second count. The woman will appeal the case, and is out on bail pending the decision of the upper court. The woman was convicted of selling liquor in violation of the Wyllie local option law, Dietrich is sued.

Herman Stern as trustee of the California Folding Crate Co., a bankrupt company, has brought suit against George L. Dietrich, a stockholder. The United States District Court put an assessment of 76.25 per cent on all stock subscribed but not paid for. The amount for which judgment against Dietrich is asked is $571.87.

LECTURED ON THIS COUNTY

McDannald Puts in Talk Free of Charge—Exhibits
Are Planned

D. W. McDannald of Berrydale was in Los Angeles yesterday, and just to keep his hand in he gave a lecture to a crowd that gathered in the lecture room of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He talked Orange County as nobody else can talk it.

McDannald represented Orange County in a most excellent manner all last winter as a lecturer. He says big crowds are expected in August during the G. A. R. encampment.

There was a meeting of the Southern California Exposition Association at which Charles L. Wilson, one of the biggest publicity men on the coast, was elected manager of the association's exhibits for the 1915 fair at San Francisco and San Diego. It was also decided to exhibit at the Chicago Land Show next November. In this association Los Angeles stands seventy-five per cent of the expense, and Orange County one-sixth of the remainder. There are seven counties represented. W. W. Wilson is this county's representative.

GILLNETRY HINTS.

A ravishing ostrich trimmed garden hat by Lewis is pictured. The odd roll of the brim of the face, as though the straw had been twisted back between the thumb and forefinger, gives a suggestion of pertness and piquancy to the graceful shape of the hat. This hat is of very fine milan in carise color and the brim facing is of black satin. The skillfully arranged plumes are white, with center ornament of black heron's feathers. One plume encircles the base of the crown and two others rear aloft with the ends wired and twisted sideways in the queer, broken-backed manner that is considered the grand chic just now.

The graceful sweep of brim beloved by Georgette is evident in a hat designed for restaurant wear. The hat is a leghorn model, having the straw almost covered in accordance with this year's whim—with black velvet. Two enormous roses, one pale yellow and the other deep orange, are poised within the curl of the brim, and the hat is worn with a gown of black chintz with a broad, brocade crepe, accompanied by buttoned black satin boots and long embroidered black silk gloves.

Wide brims distinguish all the out of door hats for midsummer wear. An "indoor hat" seems rather paradoxical; but restaurant hats come under this head and so do bridge and luncheon hats which are supposed to be worn out of doors only under cover of a carriage or limousine top. The picture shows a hat for afternoon wear with lingerie frocks are things to dream on even if one cannot afford to buy them. Two hundred dollars is really very little to pay, nowadays, for a modish garden party hat trimmed with real lace or handsome plumes. Ostrich becomes more and more popular for summer use and the ostrich hats are the most aristocratic and distinguished of all the midsummer beauties.

At last there has come a change in hats. We have worn the black hat with its aigrette or long white wing until we have grown tired of our every reflection in the glass.

The fine weather and the light summery dresses have had their influence, and it is with joy that we find ourselves trying on, one after the other, the delightful creations in lace and flowers that are attracting the smartest women in Paris today. The shops are filled with well known people selecting a hat for the garden party that has been so much talked about. The flat capelines in white tagal are most in demand, for there is nothing more suitable for an open air fete than a large hat.

The hat that everybody seems anxious to have—with the modification that the complexion, the style of hair-dressing, or the toilette demands has a round crown and long sides, the front of the brim not deep enough to cast too much shade, and is covered with a pretty drapery of white embroidered tulle. On either side is a spray of roses, Marshal Neil or France, of roses, mauve or yellow, or hortensias, peach and blue.

With these large hats it is impossible to wear anything but a plain tulle veil. But women today are not so apt to hide the smoothness and color of their skin beneath even the thinnest of tulle. They are pleased to show the health and beauty of their complexions.

BEAUTY HINTS FOR THE SUMMER GIRL.

The hair is never bright and fragrant after the shampoo unless at least three separate applications of soap have been applied. One application removes only a part of the oil and dust, and unless it is followed by at least one more soaping, preferably two, it is gray and lusterless when dry. A vigorous massage covering the entire scalp immediately after the shampoo will give new life and sheen to the hair; also it removes all danger of catching cold. The hair should be completely dry before it is combed out or brushed and should be given at least fifty long firm strokes with the brush once it is dry.

A most effective lotion for whitening the hands is made with 5 cents' worth of bay rum, 15 cents' worth of glycerin, 5 cents' worth of alcohol and 5 cents' worth of quince seed. Shake the lotion well before using. It will bring about magical results if used regularly for a few days.

When the nails are hard and brittle, with thin ridges occurring along their entire length, rub them at night with cold cream, massaging it well into the base and at the sides. Remove any discolorations with lemon juice.

There is a wonderful beautifying power in cheerfulness. The person who laughs often and heartily need have little fear of insomnia or insanity. Those who laugh, as a rule, are not only healthy people, but they are also longer lived and successful. They get rid of a thousand trifles which perplex and upset the nerves and make them disagreeable, morose and melancholy.

ON LOOKOUT FOR GUN MEN

Sheriff and Other Officers of County Keeping Eyes Out
For Pistol Carriers

The campaign over the county to stop the gun-carrying practice of many Mexicans has developed rapidly, and officers everywhere are ready to do whatever they can to further the movement. It has reached the point where any Mexican found to be carrying a revolver or dangerous knife is going to have to go to jail. The same predicament will likely face any other person, whatever his nationality, caught carrying a concealed weapon.

City Marshal Jernigan of Santa Ana believes the movement should be encouraged. He is not going to neglect any opportunity to search Mexicans, and he will arrest any man among them found packing a revolver.

The circular letter sent to all his deputies by Sheriff Ruddock follows: "Santa Ana, Cal., July 10, 1912.

"Dear Sir: Below you will find a copy of the County Ordinance in regard to carrying concealed weapons: "It is my desire that all my deputies should enforce this ordinance at every instance, and especially among the Mexicans. It will be your privilege and duty to search every man you suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon, and if found to bring him to the county jail, at the expense of the county.

"Ordinance No. 82
"AN ORDINANCE TO PROHIBIT THE CARRYING OF CONCEALED WEAPONS.

"The Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, and State of California, do ordain as follows:

"Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, except a police officer, or other peace officer, to carry upon his person any revolver, pistol, dagger, dirk, slung shot, billy or other instrument or weapon, commonly known as a concealed weapon without first having obtained a written permit from the sheriff of Orange County; provided that this ordinance shall not apply to persons carrying such concealed weapons in any incorporated town or city in said county, nor to any person who carries such weapon on his own property and premises.

"Section 4. Every person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail of Orange County for not less than ten nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

"Yours respectfully,
"C. E. RUDDOCK,
Sheriff of Orange County."

Santa Ana has an ordinance that is very much the same in wording, except as to the penalty. Under the city ordinance the penalty is not less than $1 nor more than $50 fine or not over twenty-five days in jail, or both fine and imprisonment. There have been but few prosecutions under that ordinance.

WHITTIER, July 12.—Well No. 6 of the Murphy Oil Company in the Coyote field Wednesday night struck gas at a depth of 1800 feet. The heavy column of gas continued to gush from the well for about six hours.

Taft Not to Campaign

WASHINGTON, July 13.—President Taft will not campaign personally during this fall's campaign. This information was contained in a telegram to the Minnesota Agricultural Society, declining an invitation to speak at the state fair on September 13.
